To separate his name from that of Haverford seemed impossible - the two had in forty years become almost synonymous; and the college, its campus and buildings, its educational methods, its aims and ideals all seem like a direct expression of this one man s personality. To quote from a member of the faculty: His greatest work has been the creation of a self-governing student body into which he has put the breath of his own physical life; and the gathering together of a group of powerful men on his faculty, so imbued with a sense of their responsibility for the students that there has grown up an intimacy between these two bodies of men unique among the colleges of the country. Not a student passes through Haverford College without learning to love and look up to President...
